Some tips in case something goes wrong during the webinar

- Technology can be wonderful but, it also can be infuriatingly frustrating. If things are not going to plan in the first instance check that your webcam and mic are switched on; you do this by clicking on the icons at the bottom of your screen- red is off and green is on. Then try refreshing your browser- this will rectify most mundane issues. When you do this, you may be logged out, don't worry this is normal and you can sign back in as many times as you want to. Always use the recommended and supported web browser and if it is at all possible use a laptop, PC or Apple Mac for best results. At the top of your screen to the left is a circular icon with three short horizontal lines, this is the settings control.
- Open this window to assure you have selected the correct webcam and microphone. If you are still experiencing difficulties, you may be required to go into your operating systems control panel and seek out the sound and video settings to make sure that webcam and microphones have not been disabled. Once you have done this you will need to restart your internet browser. You may also find your internet connection speed may interfere with your audio-visual experience; internet traffic varies throughout the day- bandwidth may be A factor at peak periods unfortunately no programme you run can overcome that issue.
